

Year 4 - History

TBAT understand life in an Anglo-Saxon village.

In theme, we have been learning about how buildings have changed over time.

We have learnt about the buildings, village set up and jobs.

This activity will look more closely at life in the home of an Anglo-Saxon village.

In the House

What can you see happening inside this house? What can this picture teach us about how the Anglo-Saxons lived?

People played instruments to provide entertainment. This man is playing a lyre.

The roof of the house is thatched with straw.

Meat and fish are hung up at the ceiling above the fire so that the smoke can cure it (dry it out and preserve it).

The walls of the house are made from planks of wood.

Most houses had one room, people also slept here.

A large barrel holds beer to drink.

A fire in the centre of the room provides warmth and light and a place to cook the food.

Task

Time to be a villager! Look at the task sheet to see what you need to do.
