

The Human Heart System

Label the diagram with the parts of the heart system. (If you do not have access to a printer you can click in the boxes to label them).

Now draw arrows onto the heart to show the direction of oxygenated and deoxygenated blood. Use two different colours to show the difference.